THE FAIR A SUCCESS!

The first annual fair of the Brockway Centre Agricultural Society, a fine plow and drag of their own held on Monday and Tuesday of this make. week, was a success, and a fine one, considering the disadvantages under which the society labored. The weather was good during both days.

Monday was of course taken up with the work of making entries and placing the exhibits in position. tion. The attendance was all that could be expected.

Tuesday was the day. Early in the morning people began to flock in from the country, the buggies and wagons being filled with people anxious to see what Brockway Centre could do in the way of a fair. The exhibition seemed to give exprise at the success attained. IN THE HALL.

To many this was, of course, the principal attraction. Entering we consisting of a good assortment of apples peaches, grapes, etc. The display of vegetables was also fine, the principal feature being the assortment exhibited by Jas Holden. We next noticed the display of fancy articles, consisting of needle and fancy work and the thousand and one attractive articles which woman's deft fingers can alone make pleasing to the eye. Among the most prominent exhibits noticed in this department were: Collection of worsted goods by Mrs H. Manning; collection fancy work, two hooked rugs, embroidered pillow and raised work pin cushion by Jas Fraser; knit coverlet by Jas Brown; Tidies by Fred Toms; two log cabin quilts, two coverlets, sofa pillows and tidies by Wm White; foot rest and pillow building were also displayed hoots it will be. and shoes by Holden Bros., clock by White and Davis sewing machines mission-ten cents, by Alex Fraser. The display of hogs was light but good, Lester Clark being the principal exhibitor.

Poultry was also light but good, being the exhibitors in the class.

The display of cattle was large and fine. We noticed herd grades and shorthorn bull by D. Newstead; comb; Devon heifer by James Welch; Devon heifer by James Welch; grade hearty thanks.

heifer by S. Holcomb. The display of sheep was good, comprising four cotswold sheep and two leicester ewes by Wm Scott; Cotswold Buck by Robert Lake; two Leicester ewes and two lambs by Jacob Grimes and four Leicester
